

TimingCube* MANAGEMENT

Christophe Olivier Vice President of Information Services

As Vice President of Information Services of TimingCube, Christophe is responsible for planning, implementation and day-to-day operations of the company's information technology infrastructure, as well as the continuous delivery of high quality information and services to our subscribers.

Christophe brings more than 15 years of software engineering and project management expertise to TimingCube. His career includes a wide spectrum of technical and management positions at IBM.

During the four years prior to joining TimingCube, Christophe assembled and managed international teams built with a mix of IBM professionals and business partners to develop IBM Start Now Solutions offerings for business partners. His technical acumen encompasses multi-platform solutions across IT Infrastructure, Infrastructure Management, Wireless Communication, Collaboration Services.

Christophe Olivier received his Electromechanical Engineering degree from Ecole Nationale d'Ingenieurs (ENI) in Belfort, France.